James J. Cotter
Chairman

To My Fellow Stockholders:

I was reminded the other day that our last regular stockholders' meeting was in September 2000. There was a meeting in December 2001, but this was principally to formalize the consolidation of Reading, Craig Corporation and Citadel, which was concluded at the end of that year. We will not experience this time-gap again and we intend to get together earlier in the year in the future.

Our progress in the last couple of years has been personally satisfying. I am going to highlight our cinema, theatre and real estate activities and let you be the judge of the reasonableness of my enthusiasm.

Starting out, it should be understood that this Company is first and foremost a hard asset company. Our principal domestic cinema operations are in New York, Texas, and New Jersey. Our foreign cinema operations are in Australia, New Zealand and Puerto Rico. We have three live theatres in New York City and one (four auditoriums) in Chicago. Our major real estate holdings are in Australia (Melbourne, Sydney, Brisbane and Perth), New Zealand (Wellington), New York City and California. Domestically, our theatre cash flow before G&A for the past nine months is flat against the same period last year. Our live theatres' cash flow before G&A is presently behind last year's figures but will, in my opinion, catch up by year-end, as all seven stages will be operational for the 4th quarter.

We have closed and sold the four-plex Murray Hill Cinema in New York City for $10 million, resulting in projected net operating savings of approximately $580,000 per year, and a $10 million reduction in both our loan commitment to Sutton Capital and in the exercise price of our option to purchase the Sutton Cinema, Village East Cinema and Cinemas I, II & III properties currently being leased from Sutton Capital. As part of the sale arrangement, we also negotiated an option either to receive a further payment of $500,000 or to purchase a 25% interest in the eventual development of the property for an amount equal to 25% of the net book equity of the buyer (net cost) in the project. The project includes both the Murray Hill Cinema property, and the immediately adjacent property.

Reading is also in negotiations with respect to the sale of the Sutton Cinema property for $18 million plus a 25% participation option "kicker" similar to the one as we received in the Murray Hill transaction. Such a sale should significantly improve operating cash flow, since the Sutton Cinema cash flow is currently only approximately $100,000 annually, calculated prior to any rental payments to Sutton Capital and its affiliates.

Finally, by the end of 2002, I anticipate that our G&A expenses will be down by approximately $1 million over 2001.

Over (or should I say Under) in Australia, our circuit has grown to 13 cinemas with 93 screens and generated A$39.8 million of total revenue for the 9 months ending September 30, 2002. This represents an increase of 20% over the same period last year. I expect that our Australia based cinema revenue for 2002 will exceed A$54 million and I believe that the outlook is positive for the following year. I estimate that our Australian cinema business will generate about A$10 million of net operating cash flow for 2002, which equates to a return on cinema investment of approximately 30%.

In the last nine months, cinema operating cash flow in Puerto Rico ran ahead of last year. We are currently negotiating the sale of all but one of the cinemas at a price in excess of our remaining book value. In any event, we plan to continue our lawsuits against the principal cinemas operator in Puerto Rico and the Plaza Las Americas, in hopes of recouping some of our losses in that market.

On the property side of the ledger for our overseas operations, we have now completed construction of three entertainment/ retail centers in Sydney and Perth, Australia and in Wellington, New Zealand. The centers in Sydney and Perth, while performing reasonably satisfactorily as cinemas, have yet to produce the rental returns projected at the time they were commenced. I believe, however, that over time, they will perform satisfactorily as real estate investments as well. On the other hand, our Wellington, New Zealand Entertainment Center has been, in my view, a major success.

We are now moving on to develop those properties which, after further evaluation, I believe are likely to have greater value as retail or mixed use projects than as entertainment properties. For example, we anticipate breaking ground early next year on a retail development in the Brisbane area featuring food and liquor outlets as well as pub and gaming facilities. Also, negotiations are presently underway to sell a one-half interest in the Burwood property to a joint venture partner for A$14 million and thereafter to develop the site for residential, commercial, and some retail uses. Our cost basis in the Burwood property is A$9.6 million. I believe that Burwood, comprising approximately 50 acres in the demographic center of Melbourne, will ultimately be our most exciting project. It is clearly our biggest.

There are 3 major cities in New Zealand: Auckland, Wellington and Christchurch. Our company has a 50% interest in a joint venture in Auckland, consisting of 13 screens on 3 properties, two fees and one leasehold interest. The joint venture's total investment in these properties is NZ$12 million including NZ$6 million of bank debt. The joint venture is currently generating about NZ$2 million of net cash flow on an annualized basis, which represents approximately a 31% return on equity.

Our New Zealand joint venture is planning to open an 8-plex leased cinema in Christchurch next year and is currently in negotiations with respect to another 8-plex leased cinema in Auckland. Based on our experience to date in New Zealand, I believe that these projects will likely produce investment returns of between 25% and 30%.

In Wellington, the capital of New Zealand, we have built a magnificent 10-screen cinema and retail entertainment center known as Courtenay Central in the heart of the city. It contains about 40,000 square feet of retail space on the first floor and has a 1,100-space garage immediately adjacent to the complex. We built this project separate from our joint venture partner, and own it entirely in fee.

Our total investment in Courtenay Central is NZ$57.5 million, including NZ$35 million of bank debt. Opened in March 2002, Courtenay Central has been a huge success. Cinema attendance is running at 30% over budget. The retail space is about 75% leased with tenants such as McDonald's and Starbucks. A bookstore, video store, food court, sports café, pharmacy and other restaurants also make their home at the center. The parking garage revenue is growing every month. I anticipate a cash flow of approximately NZ$2.7 million over the next 12 months from our cinema and real estate operations at Courtenay Central, calculated after payment of all interest on the debt associated with the project.

It must also be remembered that we own an additional 30,000 square feet of property immediately adjacent and to the north of Courtenay Central. We are presently in negotiations with a major retailer to develop this site as well. A few months ago, New Zealand Architecture and Design Trends, the New Zealand equivalent of Architectural Digest, did a multi-page color layout on Courtenay Central, and we will have copies of this magazine available at the meeting on November 8. The development is considered unique in Wellington and, in my view, is the best-looking entertainment complex in all of New Zealand. As you can see, we are very proud of it, as we are of all our developments.

In retrospect, our Company has lost capital in Puerto Rico and suffered from the long decline of the Australian/ New Zealand currencies. Nevertheless, I am hopeful that we will recoup some of our Puerto Rican loss through the lawsuit filed in that country. Until the US currency weakens, however, I do not see the Aussie-Kiwi currencies appreciating near-term. In my view, these two countries want their currencies not to achieve parity with or to even get close to the US dollar, in order to insure that their export program receives a low-cost market reception, especially in the USA.

Naturally, any upward adjustment in those currencies would, under GAAP, go right to the book net worth of our Company, which presently stands at about $95 million. However, please understand that, in my personal view, our company is worth materially more than that book net worth.

Obviously, like any other public company, we face many challenges ahead. The cost of liability insurance has increased dramatically since the events of September 11th, and like all other companies, we face and must deal with the increasing costs of health benefits. We face uncertainty as to the relative values of the US dollar, as compared to the Australian and New Zealand dollars, and uncertainty as to the appeal and availability of film for our cinemas, and of plays for our live theaters. We face competition for significantly larger movie chains, such as Regal, Loews and AMC in the United States and Village and Hoyts in Australia and New Zealand. However, as I stated at the beginning, I am personally satisfied with our progress over the past two years, and optimistic about the future for our Company.

As I have also said on numerous prior occasions, my family and I are by far this Company's largest stockholders and are committed to Reading's long-term best interests. As a further demonstration of that commitment, my daughter, Margaret Cotter, and my son, James J. Cotter, Jr., have agreed to serve as Directors of the Company. Since Margaret's company receives compensation from Reading in connection with her company's management of Reading's live theaters, she has agreed to serve without any compensation, other than the grant of stock options we typically give to all non-employee Directors. My family and I are not sellers, are committed to Reading for the long haul, and have great faith in Reading's prospects.

In order to strengthen the independence and experience of our Board, we have also added two new independent directors, Mr. Eric Barr and Mr. Gerard Lehaney. Mr. Barr is a former PriceWaterhouse partner, resident in Melbourne Australia, and has agreed to chair our Audit Committee. In addition to independence, Mr. Barr brings to our Board both accounting expertise and long experience in the Australian business community. Mr. Lehaney is an investment advisor, with long experience in international investment and currency values. As a long time director of Craig Corporation, Mr. Lehaney also brings to our Board continuity and institutional memory. The Craig Board has benefited for many years from his advice and counsel. As a result of these new appointments, I am proud to say that not only do we meet, we exceed, current American Stock Exchange and SEC rules and regulations pertaining to the structure of public boards and the qualifications required of their members.

In this quest to maintain a high level of Board independence, while controlling costs, we have had to say good-bye to some of our former directors, who it is anticipated will continue in the future to provide services as executives, legal counsel or financial advisors to the Company. I would like to particularly thank William Gould, of Troy & Gould, our long time corporate counsel for his years of service on the Craig Board, and Ken McCormick, formerly a Managing Director of J.P. Morgan & Co., and an ongoing source of strategic financial advice to me, for his service to the Reading Entertainment Board.

Before I conclude my two-year summary, I want also to express my and our Company's indebtedness to an individual who served us so well as a director on the Boards of all three companies simultaneously and who passed away this year after battling a long illness, Bob Loeffler. Many of us knew him professionally as a brilliant lawyer installed as trustee for Equity Funding, at that time the largest corporate bankruptcy of its kind. He brought his great intellect as well as a unique ability to instantly grasp issues and provide sound solutions to satisfy all interests. I met Bob on a social level and when the need for an independent director arose and he was asked if he could devote time to the boards of three companies, he immediately stepped forward. He did so as a friend more than in satisfaction of any personal ambition . . . his mantle already replete with corporate accolades. He missed few meetings even in the darker days of his illness, coming to board sessions in a wheelchair and when he couldn't summon the strength to make a personal attendance, he was on the speakerphone. I often think about him, his generosity to others that I have witnessed, and what a delightful human being he was to be around. He will be sorely missed by this Company and by me personally.

Table of Contents

In concluding my remarks, our attorneys admonish me that I must of course remind you that these views are my own. While they are the views on which I base my ongoing interest in Reading, no assurance can be given that any of the results that I have alluded to or predicted will in fact be achieved. They are simply my best estimate, as the Chairman, CEO and principal stockholder of this Company.

Sincerely,

James J. Cotter,
Chairman

PROXY STATEMENT

ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS

Friday, November 8, 2002

INTRODUCTION

This Proxy Statement is furnished in connection with the solicitation by the Board of Directors of Reading International, Inc. ("RII" or the "Company" and, collectively with its consolidated subsidiaries and corporate predecessors, "Reading"), of proxies for use at the Annual Meeting of Stockholders (the "Annual Meeting") to be held on Friday, November 8, 2002, at 9:00 a.m., and at any adjournment or postponement thereof, at the Millennium Biltmore Hotel, 506 South Grand Avenue, Los Angeles, California. You are requested to sign, date and return the enclosed proxy card in order to ensure that your shares are represented at the meeting.

At the Annual Meeting, stockholders will be asked to elect seven directors.

VOTING AND PROXIES

Shares represented by properly executed proxies received by the Company will be voted at the Annual Meeting in the manner specified therein or, if no instructions are marked on the enclosed proxy card, will be voted "FOR" each of the nominees for director as identified on such card. Although management does not know of any other matter to be acted upon at the Annual Meeting, shares represented by valid proxies will be voted by the persons named on the accompanying proxy card in accordance with their judgment with respect to any other matters that may properly come before the Annual Meeting.

Execution of a proxy will not in any way affect a stockholder's right to attend the Annual Meeting and vote in person, and any person giving a proxy has the right to revoke it at any time before it is exercised by (i) filing with the Corporate Secretary of the Company, prior to the commencement of the Annual Meeting, a duly executed instrument dated subsequent to such proxy revoking the same or a duly executed proxy bearing a later date or (ii) attending the Annual Meeting and voting in person.

In addition to the solicitation by mail, regular employees of the Company may solicit proxies in person or by telephone without additional compensation. The Company also will pay persons holding shares in their own names or in the names of their nominees, but not owning such shares beneficially, for the expenses of forwarding solicitation materials to the beneficial owners. The Company will bear all expenses incurred in soliciting its proxies.

Only stockholders of record of Class B Voting Common Stock, $0.01 par value (the "Class B Voting Stock"), of the Company at the close of business on September 11, 2002 are entitled to notice of and to vote at the Annual Meeting or any adjournment or postponement thereof. The outstanding voting securities of the Company on that date consisted of 1,336,331 shares of Class B Voting Stock. Stockholders are entitled to one vote for each share of Class B Voting Stock held of record. Holders of record of the Company's Class A Nonvoting Common Stock, $0.01 par value (the "Class A Nonvoting Stock"), are also being sent notices of this meeting but will have no voting rights.

The presence, in person or by proxy, of the holders of shares of stock entitling them to cast a majority of the votes entitled to be cast at the Annual Meeting will constitute a quorum. Abstentions will be counted for purposes of determining the presence of a quorum, as will broker non-votes, provided authority is given to attend the meeting or to vote on any matter to come before the meeting. Because directors are elected by a

The SEC rules also require such reporting persons to furnish the Company with a copy of all Section 16(a) forms they file.

Based solely on a review of the copies of the forms which the Company received and written representations from certain reporting persons, the Company believes that, during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2001, all filing requirements applicable to its reporting persons were met.

Indemnity Agreements

On June 27, 1990, the Board authorized the Company to enter into indemnity agreements with its then current directors and officers. The Company's Board of Directors intends to propose certain amendments to the Audit Committee Charter in light of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 and proposed amendments to the rules of the American Stock Exchange. The Audit Committee is comprised entirely of independent directors, (as independence is defined in Section 121(A) of the American Stock Exchange listing standards). Alfred Villaseñor, Jr.

Conflicts Committee

Throughout 2001, the Conflicts Committee consisted of Messrs. William Soady and Alfred Villaseñor, Jr. Upon his election to the Board of Directors, Mr. Laheney was appointed to the Conflicts Committee. The Conflicts Committee met 8 times in 2001, all of which meetings were attended by both Messrs. Soady and Villaseñor.

Compensation Committee Report on Executive Compensation

The Company has a standing Compensation Committee comprised during 2001 and until September 2002 of James J. Cotter and Alfred Villaseñor, Jr. Set forth below is the Compensation Committee Report.

The Company's executive compensation policies and programs are designed to attract and retain talented executives and to motivate them to achieve the Company's business objectives that the Board of Directors believes will enhance stockholder value. The principal terms of the Company's current employment arrangements with its principal executive officers, including salary and other base-level compensation, are described herein under "Summary Compensation Table."

Prior to the Consolidation, the Company, CRG and REI had separate compensation committees. The Compensation Committee of REI's Board of Directors was responsible for compensation matters of employees of REI, and the Compensation Committee of CRG's Board of Directors was responsible for compensation matters of employees of CRG. Certain executives provide services to two or more of the Company, REI and CRG. The Compensation Committee has historically considered compensation received from REI and CRG in determining the Company's executive compensation. The Summary Compensation Table sets forth the compensation paid to the covered individuals by all three companies on a consolidated basis.

The Company's current compensation strategy is to supplement the executive officers' base level compensation with periodic discretionary cash bonuses (predicated on the financial condition of the Company), in recognition of individual performance, and stock option grants designed to link the executives' long-term compensation to appreciation in stockholder value over time. Compensation levels, including base salary, benefits, bonuses and stock option grants are designed to incentive employees and to maintain executive compensation at the levels needed to attract and retain key employees. Initially, except in the case of Mr. James J. Cotter, compensation decisions have been made by Mr. Cotter, as the Chief Executive Officer of RII, CRG and REI, in consultation with the Compensation Committees of RII, CRG and REI and, in the case of compensation paid to individuals related to Mr. Cotter, with the approval of the appropriate compensation committee. Likewise, grants of stock options are typically recommended by Mr. James J. Cotter and reviewed by the Stock Option Committee. In the case of Mr. James J. Cotter, all decisions with respect to compensation are subject to review and approval by the entire Board of Directors.

No bonuses were paid by Reading, Craig or REI to any of their respective executive officers with respect to 2001. Stock options are reviewed and awarded separately by the Stock Option Committee, comprised entirely of independent directors. No stock options were awarded by Reading, Craig or REI with respect to 2001.

Periodic cash bonuses and stock option awards for executive officers of the Company are determined primarily on the basis of the individual job performance of the executive officers and achievement of the Company's business objectives, but no particular weighting is given by the Compensation Committee or the Stock Option Committee to individual performance versus the achievement of corporate objectives. These variable elements in the compensation of the Company's executive officers recognize individual contributions and are determined based upon the level of the executive's responsibilities, the efficiency and effectiveness with which he or she oversees the matters under his or her supervision and the degree to which the officer has contributed to the accomplishment of major tasks that advance the Company's goals.

Subject to an exception for "performance-based compensation," effective January 1, 1994, corporations generally will be denied a deduction for federal income tax purposes for compensation paid to senior executive officers to the extent that such compensation exceeds $1 million. This law did not impact the Compensation Committee's deliberations with respect to 2001. The Company does not expect to pay any executive officer cash compensation in excess of the deductibility limit with respect to 2002. The Compensation Committee and the Board of Directors, however, retain discretion to authorize the payment of compensation that does not qualify for income tax deductibility.

James J. Cotter
Alfred Villaseñor, Jr.

Stock Option Committee

The Company's Board of Directors maintains a standing Stock Option Committee to make determinations as to the granting of stock options under and the administration of the Company's 1999 stock option plan. The Stock Option Committee met one time in 2001, and all members participated in that meeting. In September 2002, the Board's Compensation and Stock Option Committees were merged into a single committee, and Messrs. Cotter Jr., Laheney, Soady and Villaseñor were appointed as the members of the merged committee. Prior to the merger of these two committees and throughout 2001, the Stock Option Committee consisted of Messrs. Soady and Villaseñor.

Vote Required; Recommendation of the Board

The seven nominees receiving the greatest number of votes will be elected to the Board of Directors. The Company has been advised that Mr. Cotter intends to vote 327,808 shares of the Company's Class B Voting Stock, representing 24.5% of the voting power of the Company, in favor of the nominees listed above.

and REI were part of a control group with Mr. Cotter that controlled the Company. Mr. Cotter was also the Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of each of Craig and REI. Mr. Tompkins, Executive Vice President, Director — Business Affairs and Corporate Secretary of the Company, was also a director and the President of Craig and the Vice Chairman and Corporate Secretary of REI. Prior to his death earlier this year, Mr. Robert Loeffler served as a director and as the Chairman of the Audit Committee of each of the Company, Craig and REI.

Certain Transactions and Related Transactions

General

On December 31, 2001, Craig Corporation (“CRG” and collectively with its corporate predecessors and wholly owned subsidiaries “Craig”), and Reading Entertainment, Inc. (“REI” and collectively with its corporate predecessors and consolidated affiliates “Old Reading”) merged with two wholly owned subsidiaries of the Company in a merger-of-equals consolidation (the “Consolidation”). As a part of the Consolidation, the Company changed its name to Reading International, Inc. (“RII” and collectively with its corporate predecessors and consolidated affiliates, “Reading”). For purposes of this discussion, the Company as it existed before the Consolidation is referred to by its prior name, Citadel Holding Corporation or “CDL,” and is referred to collectively with its then corporate predecessors and consolidated affiliates as “Citadel.” In the Consolidation, each share of CRG common stock and common preference stock was converted into the right to receive 1.17 shares of RII Class A Nonvoting Stock (the “Class A Nonvoting Stock”), and each shares of REI common stock was converted into the right to receive 1.25 share of RII Class A Nonvoting Stock. The CDL Class A Nonvoting Common Stock and CDL Class B Voting Common Stock became, upon the name change of Citadel Holding Corporation to Reading International, Inc., shares of RII Class A Nonvoting Stock and RII Class B Voting Stock (the “Class B Voting Stock”), respectively, in each case on a 1 for 1 basis.

Incident to the transaction, officers and directors of CRG and REI were given the right to have their outstanding stock options converted into options to acquire either RII Class A Nonvoting Stock or Class B Voting Stock. In each case, the exchange ratio used was the same as applied in the Consolidation to the conversion of outstanding CRG common stock, CRG common preference stock or REI common stock, as the case may be. Also incident to the transaction, the Company assumed all of the liabilities of CRG and REI under the various indemnity agreements, employment agreements and benefit agreements between those companies and their various officers and directors.

The Consolidation, including the provisions relating to the conversion of stock options and the assumption of obligations relating to indemnity agreements, employment agreements and benefit agreements, was reviewed and recommended to the full Board of Directors by the Company’s Conflicts Committee, comprised of Independent Directors Soady and Villaseñor, and was thereafter approved by the Company’s Board of Directors. The issuance of stock in the Consolidation was submitted to the vote of the holders of CDL’s Class B Voting Stock and approved at the Company’s annual meeting of stockholders held on December 31, 2001.

Prior to the Consolidation, Citadel, Craig and Old Reading were operated as part of a group of commonly controlled companies (the “Craig Group of Companies”). Mr. James J. Cotter was the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of each of CDL, CRG and REI. Mr. S. Craig Tompkins was the President and a Director of CRG and the Vice Chairman of the Board and Corporate Secretary of each of CDL and REI. Mr. Andrzej Matyczynski was the Chief Financial Officer of each of CDL, CRG and REI, and Mr. Robert Smerling was the President and a Director of REI and the head of Citadel’s domestic cinema operations. Robert M. Loeffler was a director and a member of the audit committees of each of the three companies.

REI was principally engaged in two lines of business (1) the development, ownership and operation of multiplex cinemas in Australia, New Zealand and Puerto Rico, and (2) the development, ownership and operation of cinema based entertainment centers and other real estate development activities in Australia and New Zealand. Citadel was likewise principally engaged in two lines of business (1) the development, ownership and operation of multiplex cinemas (focusing primarily on the art and upper-end film market) and “Off Broadway” style live theaters in the United States and (2) the ownership and operation of commercial real estate. Craig was principally in the business of owning interests in and providing management services to Old Reading and Citadel.

Mr. James J. Cotter, in addition to serving as the Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of each of CRG, CDL, and REI owned or otherwise had voting control over each of the companies in the Craig Group of Companies. Specifically, Mr. Cotter owned or otherwise controlled securities representing more than 50% of the voting power of CRG, which in turn owned securities representing more than 50% of the voting power of REI. Mr. Cotter, together with CRG and REI owned securities representing 49.3% of the voting power of CDL.

In part due to this overlapping ownership and control, there have been in the past a significant number of related party transactions between the members of the Craig Group of Companies, and their various affiliates. The Consolidation was intended, among other things, to address and mitigate these conflict of interest situations.

Overlapping Management

Prior to 2000, the members of the Craig Group of Companies allocated certain overhead expenses and provided various management services to one another pursuant to various cost sharing and consulting arrangements. During 2000, Old Reading moved its executive offices from Philadelphia to Los Angeles, and the members of the Craig Group of Companies reorganized and consolidated their general and administrative staffs under CRG. Consequently, substantially all of the general and administrative employees of the Craig Group of Companies were, until the Consolidation, employed directly by CRG, and receive all of their health, medical, retirement and other benefits from CRG. The general and administrative expense of the Craig Group of Companies was then periodically allocated, in accordance with the amount of time spent by these employees providing services for the respective member of the group. In the Consolidation, all of these general and administrative employees become employees of RII.

Certain Transactions Between the Members of the Craig Group of Companies, and Their Affiliates

Certain Entertainment Property Transactions

In 1999, Old Reading determined that, in view of its limited capital resources and the size and scope of its investments and commitments in Australia and New Zealand, it should focus on its overseas activities and dispose of its domestic entertainment assets. During this same period, Citadel was searching for hard asset investment opportunities in which to invest its cash ($21,440,000 at June 30, 1999).

In the summer of that year, management began conversations with National Auto Credit, Inc. ("NAC"), about a potential transaction in which NAC would acquire, in partnership with Citadel, all of the domestic cinema assets of Old Reading, including Old Reading's rights to acquire the Manhattan based City Cinemas chain. In April 2000 Old Reading conveyed a 50% membership interest in Angelika Film Centers, Inc. ("AFC") to NAC in consideration of the issuance to it of certain securities and granted to NAC, in consideration of the payment by NAC to Old Reading of an option fee of $500,000, an option to acquire the remainder of Readings domestic cinema assets. That option was subject to the right of Citadel to participate as a 50/50 partner with NAC in those assets, if Citadel were to so elect. Ultimately, NAC determined not to exercise that option, and determined instead to invest in a developmental "dot.com" company. Reading has resold to NAC the securities it received in consideration of the transfer of the 50% membership interest in AFC for gross proceeds of approximately $16,469,000. Reading had a basis in the 50% interest sold of approximately $6,123,250.

During this same period, Citadel determined to proceed with the acquisition from Old Reading of the remainder of Old Reading's domestic entertainment assets. During 2000 and the first quarter of 2001, Reading conveyed to Citadel the following domestic entertainment assets:

1. The City Cinemas and Liberty Theaters Transactions. In December 1998, Old Reading entered into an agreement (the "Sutton Agreement") with Messrs. James J. Cotter and Michael Forman and certain of their affiliates (collectively referred to here in as "Sutton") to acquire the City Cinemas cinema chain (the “City Cinemas Transaction”) and to acquire by merger Off Broadway Investments, Inc. (“Liberty Theaters) (the “Liberty Theaters Merger”). In 2000, Old Reading assigned that agreement to Citadel, and Citadel reimbursed to Old Reading the deposit Old Reading had made to Sutton under the Sutton Agreement. In 2000, Citadel closed the City Cinemas Transaction and the Liberty Theaters Merger. In the City Cinemas Transaction, Citadel leased from Sutton, under a ten-year operating lease (the “Operating Lease”), four cinemas, obtained certain management rights with respect to an additional six cinemas, and purchased City Cinemas’ 16.7% membership interest in AFC. Citadel also obtained certain options (referred to here collectively as the “Asset Purchase Option”), exercisable in ten years, to purchase the assets subject to the Operating Lease, including two fee interests, for $48,000,000, and committed, in 2007, to lend Sutton up to $28,000,000 (the “Standby Line of Credit”). In the Liberty Theaters Merger, Citadel merged with Liberty Theaters, issuing CDL common stock for all of the outstanding shares of Liberty Theaters in consideration of the issuance to Messrs. James J. Cotter and Michael Forman of CDL shares. The CDL common stock issued in the transaction was valued at $10,000,000. As a result of the City Cinemas Transaction, the management of NY Angelika, and two other domestic cinemas owned by Old Reading, were transferred from City Cinemas to Citadel. Included among the assets acquired were the rights and obligation with respect to the 86th Street Playhouse in which Messrs. Cotter and Forman have a controlling interest.

2. Sale of the Murray Hill Cinema. In September 2001, Sutton received an offer to purchase the Murray Hill Cinema (one of the cinemas subject to the Operating Lease and the Asset Purchase Option) for $10,000,000. Citadel agreed to release the Murray Hill cinema from the Operating Lease and the Asset Purchase Option. As a consequence of the release of the Murray Hill Cinema from the Operating lease and the Asset Purchase Option, it was agreed that upon the closing of that sale, the rent payable under the Operating Lease would be reduced by approximately $825,000 per year, the exercise price of the Asset Purchase Option would be decreased by $10,000,000 from $48,000,000 to $38,000,000, and the Standby Line of Credit would be reduced by $10,000,000 from $28,000,000 to $18,000,000. In addition, Citadel was to receive at the closing a two year option pursuant to which it could elect either (i) to receive a payment of $500,000 in consideration of its surrender of its tenant’s interest in the Murray Hill Cinema, or (ii) to purchase at par a 25% interest in the combined development of the Murray Hill site and the 3,703 square foot property adjacent to the Murray Hill Cinema (the “Murray Hill Option”). This transaction was reviewed and approved by the Company’s Conflicts Committee.

3. Modification of the Murray Hill Transaction. In late 2001, the sale transaction was modified, to provide for the sale of the Murray Hill Cinema in consideration of the payment of $2.5 million in cash and the delivery of a two-year purchase money promissory note (the “Murray Hill Promissory Note”) in the amount of $7,500,000, secured by the Murray Hill property. That transaction was closed on January 29, 2002, and it is anticipated that the Murray Hill Promissory Note will be paid before the end of October 2002. Reading continued to operate the Murray Hill Cinema from January 29, 2002 until July 19, 2002, under a license from Sutton, for no occupancy charges other than property tax and utilities. Reading has until January 29, 2004, subject to certain exceptions, which would require an earlier exercise date, to exercise the Murray Hill Option. This transaction was reviewed and approved by the Company’s Conflicts Committee.

4. The Domestic Cinema Transactions. In September 2000, Citadel also acquired from Old Reading the rights to the Angelika Film Center & Café project in Dallas, Texas — an eight screen Angelika style cinema that opened in August 2001 (the “Dallas Angelika”). In this transaction, Citadel reimbursed to Old Reading its out-of-pocket costs with respect to the development, and assumed Old Reading’s obligations under the lease. Old Reading, in turn, assigned to Citadel its interest in the lease and committed to reimburse to Citadel a portion of its investment in the Dallas Angelika if Citadel did not achieve at least a 20% return on equity during the second year of operation of the cinema. In March 2001, Old Reading sold the remainder of its domestic cinema assets (other than its residual 33.3% membership interest in AFC) to Citadel in consideration of the issuance by Citadel of a two-year purchase money promissory note in the amount of $1,906,000. This transaction was reviewed and approved by the Company's Conflicts Committee. The purchase price was recommended by management and the board based upon a 6.0 multiple of cinema cash flow.

5. The Royal George Theatre Complex Transaction. In March 1999, Old Reading acquired for approximately $3,000,000 the Royal George Theater Complex, a four-auditorium fee property located in Chicago. The Royal George was acquired in a newly formed limited liability company ("RGT"). In June 2000, Citadel lent to RGT the funds needed to retire the purchase money note issued by RGT to acquire the complex, in consideration of the issuance to Citadel of a promissory note, bearing interest at the rate of 10.0% per annum, and in September 2000, acquired the Royal George Theatre Complex from Old Reading at approximately the same price as was paid by Old Reading for that complex in March 1999. This transaction was reviewed and approved by the Conflicts Committee. The purchase price was based on the recommendation of management.

6. Management of Live Theater Assets. Prior to the Liberty Theaters Merger, the live theater assets of Liberty Theaters and the Royal George Theatre Complex were booked and managed by Union Square Management, Inc., a third party theater management company. Ms. Margaret Cotter, the daughter of James J. Cotter, was at that time the Senior Vice President of that company. Reading's live theaters are now booked and managed by Off-Broadway Investment LLC ("OBI Management"), a company wholly owned by Margaret Cotter. Ms. M. Cotter is also the President of that company. OBI Management has been retained on an at-will basis, on substantially the same terms as such management service was previously provided by Union Square Management for over the previous decade.

7. Investment in Plays. From time to time the members of the Craig Group of Companies, and Mr. Cotter and the other members of management, have been afforded the opportunity to invest in the productions that play or may play in the live theaters owned by the Company. These investments are monitored by Mr. Cotter, and periodically reported to the RII Conflicts Committee. During 2001, no related parties held any investment in any of the productions making use of Reading's live theaters, other than Mr. Cotter's historical interest in STOMP, which has been playing at the Orpheum Theatre since prior to its acquisition by Reading.

Certain Agricultural Transactions

Prior to the Consolidation, the Craig Group of Companies collectively owned approximately 60% of the equity interest in three partnerships (the "Agricultural Partnerships") formed in 1997 to purchase approximately 1,600 acres of agricultural land in Southern California commonly known as the "Big 4 Ranch." In order to satisfy certain federal laws relating to access to federal water supplies, the ownership of the Big 4 Ranch was taken in the Agricultural Partnerships, which are owned 40% by Citadel, 40% by Big 4 Ranch, Inc. ("BRI") and 20% by Visalia LLC ("Visalia").

Visalia is owned 49% by certain members of James J. Cotter's family and 51% by Cecelia Packing ("Cecelia") a company wholly owned by Mr. Cotter. The outside Directors of CDL felt at the time of the acquisition of Big 4 Ranch that it was important that Mr. Cotter acquire an equity interest in the Agricultural Partnerships, since Citadel was relying principally upon his expertise and experience in making and providing executive supervision of the investment.

BRI was initially a wholly owned subsidiary of CDL, and was spun off to the stockholders of CDL immediately prior to the acquisition by the Agricultural Partnerships of Big 4 Ranch. Accordingly, Craig and Old Reading received their interests in BRI initially as a result of that spin-off. Thereafter, Craig increased its holdings in BRI through the purchase of additional BRI shares in privately negotiated transactions. Craig and Old Reading own their interests in the Agricultural Partnerships indirectly through their ownership of CDL and BRI shares. Prior to the Consolidation, Craig and Reading controlled BRI, owning 49% of the voting power of that company. In addition, Cecelia and a trust for the benefit of one of Mr. Tompkins's children own an additional 3.2% of BRI. Historically, the officers and directors of CRG have served as the officers and directors of BRI.

Table of Contents

Shortly before the Consolidation, Craig and Old Reading sold all of their interest in BRI to a third party for nominal consideration. In July 2002, the Agricultural Partnerships reconveyed the Big 4 Ranch to the prior owner of the property in satisfaction of all liabilities under the purchase money promissory note encumbering that property (the "Reconveyance"). The Agricultural Partnerships are in the process of winding up and liquidating, as they have no assets.

Prior to the Reconveyance, the Big 4 Ranch was farmed by Big 4 Ranch Farming, LLC ("Farming"), which is owned 80% by Citadel and 20% by Cecelia. For the year 2001 and the six months ended June 30, 2002, Farming received no profit from its farming activities on behalf of the Agricultural Partnerships. Farming contracts with Cecelia for certain bookkeeping and administrative services, for which it pays a fee of $6,000 per month, and was paid $72,000 in each of 1999, 2000 and 2001, for such administrative services. This fee was reviewed and approved by the Company's independent directors at the time the Agricultural Partnerships were formed in 1997. Cecelia also packs fruit for the Agricultural Partnerships. The Craig Group of Companies provides various administrative services for the Agricultural Partnerships and BRI, for which they receive no compensation. Packing services were provided by Cecelia at industry competitive rates.

Due to a variety of factors, principally bad weather and market conditions, the Agricultural Partnerships lost in excess of 100% of their equity. Following the December 1998 freeze, which destroyed their 1999 crop and naturally adversely affected the 2000 crop, the Agricultural Partnerships were funded on an 80/20 basis through various loans and advances from Citadel and Visalia. BRI, which has essentially no assets other than its original interest in the Agricultural Partnerships, did not have the capital resources to contribute to the ongoing funding of the Agricultural Partnerships.

Certain Family Relationships

Mr. Cotter, the principal stockholder of RII, has advised the Board of Directors that he considers his holdings in RII to be a long-term investment to be passed to his heirs. The Directors of RII believe that it is in the best interests of these companies, and their respective stockholders, for Mr. Cotter's heirs to become experienced in the operations and affairs of the Company. Accordingly, all of his children are currently involved in the business and affairs of Reading.

Ms. Ellen Cotter, 36, is the Chief Operating Officer of Reading's domestic cinema operations. Ms. Ellen Cotter is a graduate of Smith College and holds a juris doctor from Georgetown Law School. Prior to her involvement with Reading, Ms. Ellen Cotter spent four years in private practice as a corporate attorney with the law firm of White & Case in New York.

Mr. James J. Cotter, Jr., 33, was elected to the RII Board of Directors on March 21, 2002. Mr. James J. Cotter, Jr. has and continues to receive the same compensation paid to all other non-employee directors, including the grant to him upon his election to the Board of currently exercisable options to purchase 20,000 shares of Class A Nonvoting Stock, exercisable at the market price of such stock on the date of grant. Mr. James J. Cotter, Jr. is a graduate of the Brown University, and obtained his law and tax degrees from the New York University, and is currently in the private practice of law with the firm of Winston & Strawn, in New York. From September 1999 to March 2002, Mr. James J. Cotter, Jr. was a director of Gish Biomedical, Inc., a company in which Reading has a 16.3% interest. Mr. James J. Cotter, Jr. received no compensation for his services as a Gish director.

Ms. Margaret Cotter, 34, was elected to the RII Board on September 27, 2002. Prior to such election, she was a member of the Board of Directors of BRI and continues to serve as a director of CRG. Until the date of her election to the RII Board, Ms. Cotter received as a CRG Director that same compensation paid to all other non-employee directors of CRG ($25,000 with respect to 2001), and served on the board of BRI as an accommodation to Reading and without separate compensation. Ms. Cotter has agreed to waive her directors fees with respect to her future services as a director of the Company, but received, upon her election to the Board of RII, in accordance with the Company's historic practice, currently exercisable options to purchase 20,000 shares of Class A Nonvoting Stock at an exercise price determined by reference to the market price of such securities on the date of grant ($3.75 per share). Ms. Margaret Cotter also holds options to acquire 35,100 shares of Class B Voting Stock, exercisable at $8.47 per share on average, representing options assumed in the Consolidation to acquire CRG common stock issued to her for her services as a director of CRG. Ms. Margaret Cotter has also served as an officer of Cecelia and is the owner and President of OBI Management, and, incident to OBI Management's management arrangement with Reading, serves as the president of Liberty Theaters, Inc. Reading's arrangement with OBI Management is on a month-to-month basis, is periodically reviewed by the Company's Conflicts Committee, and provides for the management of Reading's New York live theaters on essential the same business terms as provided in Liberty Theater's arrangement with OBI Management's predecessor prior to the acquisition of Liberty Theaters by Reading in 2000. Accordingly, the cost of this management structure was taken into account by the Company's Conflicts Committee at the time that it approved the Liberty Theaters Merger. Essentially, this arrangement provides that the manager will receive compensation solely from the net cash flow received by Reading from each of its New York theaters, after taking into account a preferred return to Reading, and that the manager will receive no compensation with respect to any such theatre at any time when it is not generating revenues for Reading. This arrangement incentivizes the manager to keep the theaters booked with the best available shows, and mitigates the negative cash flow that would result from having an empty theater. In the case of the Royal George Theater Complex in Chicago, which was acquired separately from Liberty Theaters, Reading paid a flat fee of $20,000 with respect to 2001, plus reimbursement of travel related expenses for OBI Management personal with respect to travel between New York City and Chicago in connection with the management of the Royal George Theater Complex. OBI Management operates from theater facilities owned by Reading on a rent-free basis, but with the exception of the travel related reimbursement with respect to the management of the Royal George Theater Complex, otherwise is responsible for all of its costs and expenses relating to the performance of its management functions. OBI Management earned $393,726 from Reading in 2001. By comparison, in the year of the Liberty Theaters Merger, Liberty Theatres paid in excess of $415,000 for the management of its New York live theaters alone. Ms. Margaret Cotter is a graduate of Georgetown University, and holds a juris doctor from Georgetown Law School. Prior to her involvement with Reading, Ms. Margaret Cotter spent four years as an assistant district attorney and felony trial prosecutor in New York City.

Mr. James J. Cotter, Jr., Ms. Ellen Cotter and Ms. Margaret Cotter each have direct or indirectly ownership interest in Visalia and Hecco Ventures.

Certain Miscellaneous Transactions

At December 31, 2001, Mr. Smerling owed Reading $105,000 pursuant to a demand loan. In January 2002, Mr. Smerling repaid $35,000 of this loan.
